Welcome Message

His Highness Shaikh Abdulla bin Hamad Al Khalifa

Personal Representative of His Majesty the King
Chairman of Bahrain International Airshow Supreme Organising Committee

It is my pleasure to welcome you to the Kingdom of Bahrain, for the Bahrain International Air Show (BIAS) which is in its sixth edition, celebrating a decade of distinction.

As a gateway to the Gulf, Bahrain prides itself on providing investment opportunities in a supportive business environment. We are honored to showcase and extend these opportunities through the Bahrain International Airshow.

With a continued focus on enhancing value for our customers, our 2022 ten-year programme will feature:

- a new and expanded conference programme
- a larger exhibition footprint with a reconfigured layout for maximum interaction
- fully refurbished chalets for our supporting partners.

Working with our partners the Royal Bahraini Air Force, we are welcoming military delegations from across the world, as well as civil delegations headed by senior-decision makers. Our aim is to provide a best-in-class networking experience for all our participants.

We are proud to see BIAS becoming a champion of the future generation of aviation professionals. Providing students with the opportunity to network with global aviation decision-makers and promote their skills and qualifications, as well as gaining first-hand experiences in the aviation industry and the career opportunities available.

I hope that the show will serve you in reaching your audience, exploring opportunities and in engaging with the world's aerospace community.

I wish you a very successful show and look forward to seeing you in 2024.

Welcome Message

H.E. Mohammed bin Thamer AlKaabi

Minister of Transportation and Telecommunications

I am very pleased to welcome you once again to the Bahrain International Airshow, which is back in full force as it celebrates its decade of distinction. We are happy to see many of our regular clients and partners back this year, and we extend a very warm welcome to those of you who are participating for the first time in our boutique show.

We have designed a program this year that provides more opportunities for networking, a more user-friendly set up for companies in our unique exhibition hall, and a platform that enables knowledge exchange via a forum lineup with expert speakers. I am confident that this will enhance your experience in Bahrain and allow you opportunities for fruitful discussions and product demonstrations.

Bahrain is witnessing a focused drive in its transportation sector, one which you may have seen reflected upon arrival at our brand-new passenger terminal building at the Bahrain International Airport. This building started operations in January 2021, at a time when many other airports weren't operating at all. Our business-forward approach throughout the past couple of challenging years is one of the true benefits of operating in Bahrain, as we are committed to ensuring business continuity for all our stakeholders and clients.

I hope that your time spent at BIAS 2022 gives you a glimpse of this commitment and that you not only gain real business value from your visit, but that you also use it as an opportunity to enjoy the privilege of face-to-face interaction that we are all so keen to catch up on.

Bahrain International Airshow – Programme

Global Thought Leaders Take To The Stage

An industry-leading programme of thought leadership forums will discuss four key themes affecting the global aerospace industry at the Bahrain International Airshow.

This year's programme is built around four thematic areas covering:

Airports and Airlines – exploring challenges being faced and the industry's sustainability.

Cargo and Logistics – highlighting the industry's growth potential and looking at opportunities for advancement and the building of resilience across the global supply chain.

Women in Aerospace – showcasing the growth of senior female executives in the industry and addressing opportunities for diversity in the sector.

Space – examining global developments, exploring investment opportunities and funding and inspiring next generations to the join this high growth area of the industry.

Taking place day two and three of the show, the dedicated theatres will provide future-focused content and facilitate the exchange of insights and knowledge on the latest trends shaping global aerospace and aviation today. The forums are designed specifically to serve as a thought exchange platform, where senior aerospace executives from the Gulf region and international companies collaborate to bring issues of mutual interest to the fore.

A diverse range of renowned aviation leaders and senior representatives from aerospace organisations from around the world are speaking, including:

- H.E Kamil Alawadhi, Regional Vice President Africa & Middle East, IATA
- H.E. Dr. Mohamed Ebrahim Al Aseeri, CEO, National Space Science Agency
- H. E. Salem Butti Salem Al Qubaisi, Director General, UAE Space Agency

- Yasmeen Fraidon Mohammed, First Bahraini Pilot, Gulf Air
- Sara Sabt, Director - Risk and Compliance, BAC
- Sue Donoghue, Arab Cluster CEO, (Bahrain, Kuwait, Saudi Arabia), DHL Global Forwarding

Commenting on the forum programme, His Excellency the Minister of Transportation and Telecommunications His Excellency Mohamed bin Thamer AlKaabi, said, "We're delighted to announce the forum programme for BIAS 2022, which constitutes a very important part of the Airshow. It is one of the major draws of the event and serves as an important platform for facilitating industry cooperation around topics that are paramount to its sustainable growth and advancement. With an impressive group of participants and expert speakers in attendance, we will be exploring important themes and trends from across the industry. We will also be giving attendees an unparalleled opportunity to hear from and engage directly with market leaders on the topics that matter most."

The forums can be attended by all trade participants and visitors and are located in the Exhibition Hall.

Why Bahrain?

WARM WELCOME:

Locals in Bahrain are friendly and welcoming. Over half of the city's population are expatriates from all over the world, making Bahrain a wonderful country of multiculturalism.

ARCHITECTURAL WONDERS:

Bahrain is home to a world heritage fort that will take your breath away. If you love architecture, ancient civilisations, and far-reaching views then Qal'at al-Bahrain, or Bahrain Fort, is the place for you. But if culture is really what you're after then make sure to head to Bahrain's spectacular National Theatre before heading home.

BUSINESS IN BAHRAIN:

The Bahrain economy is the most diversified in the GCC region with strengths in the financial services, technology innovation, manufacturing, and logistics sectors. Its pro-innovation business policies and laws give businesses of all sizes the opportunity to thrive.

REGULATION:

Fast-reacting regulatory environment means that the Kingdom can adapt to global disruptions and ensure the ecosystem remains competitive yet stable.

FINANCIAL SERVICES:

Bahrain's financial services sector is the most significant contributor to the Kingdom's GDP after oil and is the oldest and most established in the region. Today the sector accounts for over 17% of Bahrain's GDP and employs over 13,600, with Bahrainis representing almost 70.*

TEAM BAHRAIN:

Team Bahrain has attracted US$72.7 million (BHD27.5 million) in direct investments during the first three quarters of 2022 through nine financial services companies either setting up in or expanding their business within the Kingdom. The financial services investments are expected to generate over 840 jobs over the next three years.*
